

St Barnabas Swanland

Welcome to our worship today –

A special welcome to any who are here for the first time!

Sunday 26th September: Recovery through restoration: (1) Reflect

- Ps 23:3/ Mark 1:14-20

Sunday 10.15am - Welcome to today's Joint service of Holy Communion

Words for songs and liturgy are on the screens – everyone is now welcome to sing (or, if you prefer, to 'hum' along / say the words) as we worship!

Wednesday 2pm – Holy Communion

We are now using the books – please collect from the table in the entrance foyer and leave on your seat as you leave.

For communion, you are invited to come forward in households & stand or kneel at the rail a 'post' apart – we are sharing communion using consecrated bread dipped in wine.

Seats are no longer socially-distanced side-to-side – please take a card from the foyer if you would like to keep the seat next to you free. Please use hand sanitisers as you enter, leave and during distribution of communion. Bibles are in the seat-backs: please use & replace but don't pass them to others; please take this noticesheet home with you.

We are asking everyone to continue to please wear a face mask/ covering (unless you are exempt) whilst moving around the building - disposable masks are available. We will also continue to 'physically distance' (1m apart) from people in other households and will share the 'peace' sensitively).

Please stay, if you feel comfortable, for free coffee/ tea & biscuits etc. in the hall after the service (with cake on Wednesdays) - please observe 'Covid caution'! The foyer and the 'steps' area outside the front of church are also available for fellowship after church.
